Hayes Fined $200 for Killing Over Limit of Ducks on February 1

KEEPER OF GUN CLUB SWEARS TO COMPLAINT

Says Head of Fish and Game Commission Violated the Law Often

This morning Justice Cox issued a warrant for the arrest of M. P. Connell, president of the California Fish Open Hunting Season and Game Commission, on a charge of killing more than twenty-five ducks on February 8, 1913. From the testimony and talk at the courtroom after the trial, this gun club meeting seems to have been aimed largely at Connell. Connell was evidently accused of having stationed PRIZE FIGHT JURY Bordner to catch fellow clubmen. The clubmen came back at Connell at the club meeting with Merritt as chief over the limit. Woman Heads New York's Great System of Prisons

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.-The selection of Miss Katherine B. Davis as the correction commissioner of New York city by Mayor John Purrey Mitchel, who took office at the beginning of the year, throws into the hands of a woman the management of a prison system which is more important than that of many states. Miss Davis-Dr. Davis-will, for instance, have charge of the Tombs, New York's famous city prison. The county penitentiary will also be under her control. Here will be a chance for reform such as few women have had in the history of the world. The Tombs is one of the worst mismanaged institutions of the kind. Favoritism of all kinds flourishes. Perhaps every crime known, some of them the most bestial, is committed within its walls, unchecked by calloused keepers Opium smuggling is one of the regular industries. Bribery is the commonest crime. No favors may be obtained without paying for them.

Wilson's Talk on Currency Law

President Wilson, after signing the currency bill and enacting it into law what he declares "is the second great constructive achievement of the Dermocratic administration," delivered an address on the subject. The President said:

"I need not tell you that I feel a deep gratification at being able to sign this bill, and I feel that I ought to express very heartily the admiration I have for the men who have made it possible for me to sign this bill. There have been currents and counter-currents, but the stream has moved forward. I think that we owe special admiration to the patience and the leadership and the skill and the force of the chairmen of the two committee; and behind them have stood the committees themselves exercising a degree of scrutiny and of careful thought in this matter which undoubtedly has redounded to the benefit of the bill itself. Then there has grown, as we have advanced with this business and the great piece of business which preceded it, evidences of team work that to my mind have been notable indeed. Only constructive action, only the action which accomplishes something, fills men with the enthusiasm of co-operation, and I think that at this session of Congress we have witnessed an accumulating pleasure and enthusiasm on the part of the membership of both houses in seeing substantial and lasting things accomplished.

"It is a matter of real gratification to me that in the case of this bill there should have been so considerable a number of Republican votes cast for it. All great measures under our system of government are of necessity party measures, for the party of the majority is responsible for their origination and their passage; but this cannot be called a partisan measure. It has been relieved of all intimation of that sort by the cordial co-operation of men on the other side of the two houses who have acted with us and have given very substantial reasons and very intelligent reasons for acting with us. So that I think we can go home with the feeling that we are in better spirits for public service than we were even when we

'As for the bill itself. I feel that we can say that it is the first of a series of constructive measures by which the Democratic party will show that it knows how to serve the country. In calling it the first of a series of constructive measures I need not say that I am not casting any reflections on the great tariff bill which preceded it. The tariff bill was meant to remove those impediments to American industry and prosperity which had so long stood in their way. It was a great piece of preparation for the achievement of American commerce and American industry which are certain to follow. Then there came upon the heels of it this bill which furnishes the machinery for free and elastic and uncontrolled credits, put at the disposal of the merchants and manufacturers of this country for the first time in fifty years. I was refreshing my memory on the passage of the national bank act, which came in two pieces, as you know, in February, 1863, and in June, 1864; it is just fifty years ago since that measure, suitable for that time, was passed, and it has taken us more than a generation and a half to come to an understanding as to the readjustments which were necessary for our own time. But we have reached those readjustments. I myself have always felt when the Democratic party was criticised as not knowing how to serve the business interests of the country that there was no use of replying to that in The only satisfactory reply was in action. We have written the first chapter of that reply.

"We are greatly favored by the circumstances of our time. We come at the end of a day of contest, at the end of a day when we have been scrutinizing the processes of our business, scrutinizing them with critical and sometimes with hostile eye. We have slowly been coming to this time which has now happily arrived when there is a common recognition of the things that it is undesirable should be done in What we are proceeding to do now is to organize our peace, is to make our prospecity not only stable, but free to have an unimpeded momen-It is so obvious that it ought not need to be stated that nothing can be good for the country which is not good for all of the country. Nothing can be for the interest of the country which is not in the interest of everybody, therefore the day of accommodation and of concession and of common understanding is the day of peace and achievement of necessity. We have come to the beginning of that day. Men are no longer resisting the conclusions which the nation has arrived at as to the necessity of readjustment of its business. Business men of all sorts are showing their willingness to come into this arrangement, which I venture to characterize as the constitution of peace. So that by common counsel and by the accumulating force of cooperation we are going to seek more and more to serve the country.

"I have been surprised at the acceptance of this measure by public opinion everywhere. I say sur-prised because it seems as if it had suddenly become obvious to men who had looked at it with too critical an eye that it was really meant in their in-terest. They have opened their eyes to see a thing which they had supposed to be hostile to be friendly and serviceable—exactly what we intended it to be, and what we shall intend all our legislation to be. The men who have fought for this measure have fought nobody. They have simply fought for those accommodations which are ging to secure us in prosperity and in peace. Nobody can be the friends of any class in America in the sense of being the enemy of any other class. You can only be the friend of one class by showing it in the lines by which it can accommodate itself to the other classes. The lines of help are always the lines of accommodation.

"It is in this spirit, therefore, that we rejoice together tonight and I cannot say with what deep emotions of gratitude I feel that I have had a part in completing a work which I think will be of last-ing benefit to the business of the country."

To Refund Gas Payment

The Southern California Gas Company has asked the Superior Court of San Bernardino County for leave to relase to consumers of the company's gas approximately $5000, which represents the difference in the former price of $1.15 and the present $1 rate. the excess having been held up by the Court several months since.

The richest woman in Connecticut. Mrs. Louise E. Stoddard, wife of the former Yale football player, died at her home in Tenacres Sunday. She left an estate valued at $15,000,000.

Oil Exhibit at Exposition

"California will some day be the center of the liquid fuel production of the world." This is the declaration of Dr. Irving C. Allen, petroleum chemist of the United States Bureau of Mines, who was one of the guests of honor at a banquet of the American Chemical Society in Los Angeles. Another guest was Dr. Charles E. Van Barneveld, director of the Department of Mines and Metallurgy of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Both these gentlemen are urging an oil congress at the fair. It is the intention to have working oil wells and mines at the fair. As outlined by Dr. Van Barneveld, the exhibit will be a mountain, having a peak 35 or 40 feet high, and a base of 120 feet square, with the exhibition space at the foot divided into quadrants, in which will be exhibited a placer mine, a model dredge, a quartz mine, a copper mine and an oil field, probably a facsimile of the Midway. Everything would be an exact reproduction and mechanically perfect, so that every phase of mining and oil development could be shown.

In that there is no State appropriation for such an exhibit, it is proposed to ask the supervisors in every county having either mining or oil industries to contribute to such an exhibit, the cost, according to Dr. Van Barneveld, in the rough, would be probably $15,000, and the exhibit $75,000. With what remains other features of mining could be shown he said.

"The object," he said, "is not to advertise these industries, but to educate the world in the resources of California. That California is not in need of advertising its oil fields and its mines was shown by the statement that this State is producing $40,000,000 of oil a year, and last year its mining industry added more than $90,000,000 to the purchasing power of the State. The congress is for the exchange of ideas and knowledge of the science of petroleum, to discuss ways and means of conserving crude oil and natural gas, of adding to the efficiency of its products in a word, of adding to the world's knowledge on this great subject."

The scheeme has the hearty endorsement of practically all the oil men in the State.

Crops of the World

Figures on the world's production for the present year, cabled to the Department of Agriculture from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, including the principal countries of the Northern Hemisphere are as follows:

All wheat, 3,569,000,000 bushels, being 8.9 per cent more than last year; all rye, 1,823,000,000 bushels. 1 per cent less than last year; barley, 1,524,000,000 bushels, 7.7 per cent more than last year; oats, 4.571,000,000 bushels, 2.3 per cent more than last year. The foregoing includes the production in Austria, Germany, Belgium, Denmark, Spain, France, Great Britain and Ireland, Hungary, Italy, Luxemburg, Netherlands, Roumania, Russia in Europe (63 Governments), Switzerland, Canada, United States, India, Japan, Russia and Asia (ten Governments), Algeria and Tunis.

The total production of sugar beets was 54,992,000 short tons, 2.5 per cent more than last year; in Belgium, Denmark, Spain, France, Italy, Netherlands, Roumania, Switzerland, Canada, United States, Prus-

The total production of cleaned cotton was 9,296,-000,000 pounds, 2.1 per cent more than last year, in the United States, India, Japan and Egypt.

Buys Highway Bonds

The California State Board of Control bid in $1,800,000 of 4 per cent State highway bonds at par and accrued interest when State Treasurer Roberts called for bids Monday afternoon. The h keep $600,000 of these bonds for an investment for its own funds, but will dispose of the remainder, orders for nearly all having been received. Contra Costa County took $190,000 of these bonds, the proceeds of which will be expended by the highway commission in building the portions of the State highway planned for Contra Costa County. Kern County is to take $200,000 more bonds.

Living Costs Less

The cost of living in New Jersey in 1913 was not as high as it was in 1912, according to the annual report of George C. Low, chief of the State Bureau of Statistics and Labor, recently submitted to Acting Governor Taylor. In 1912 the cost of a test bill of goods was $14,600, while in 1913 the same goods cost but $13,632, or a seven per cent decrease. The reduction, the report said, was due to a great extent to a remarkable decline in the price of potatoes. There are many persons, however, who do not care to live in Jersey.

Postal Savings Deposits

On the 30th of June last there were 331,006 depositors in the Postal Savings Banks who had $33,-818,870 to their credit. These official figures are given out by the Third Assistant Postmaster General in his annual report. Two years and a half ago, when the first six months after the establishment of the system ended, the number of depositors was 11,918 and the total deposits $677,145. Wonderful growth is therefore shown.

Argentine Beef Invades America

Concerted action is now being made to invade the American market with practically unlimited supplies of dressed beef, mutton and lamb by the largest independent meat concerns in Argentine. The first shipment, 17,000 tons, arrived in New York, Tuesday, from the Sansinena Company, an experimental shipment, and every pound was sold to twenty butchers in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Three shipments per month will be made in the future.

Ten tons of gold, cast in bars weighing 100 pounds each, and valued at $750,000, are being brought by dog teams from the Yukon to Southwestern Alaska, and thence by steamship to Seattle. Six dog teams are required to move the metal.

Taxpayers and Bond Schemes

Thus far petitions containing 20,563 names have been received at the Secretary of State's office that' in bond elections none but taxpayers be allowed to vote. In order to place the question upon the ballot only 31,000 names are needed, and it is more than likely that voters will have opportunity to vote upon the amendment.
